

FLETCHER'S The Store Of Good Service FLETCHER'S

As Airy As Spring's Gentle Breezes Are These Wash Fabrics

And there's such an immense diversity, too, from which to make selection that even the most critical woman will have her individual taste—preferences appealed to over and over again. There are many novelties represented—clever and original weaves, the like of which have not been seen before. And then all the desirable staple wash fabrics are represented, though the designs are mostly new. There's a freshness and cleanliness about this showing that makes it irresistible. You are sure to be deeply interested in it, so don't fail to inspect it.

A Word of NEW SPRING GARMENTS

The styles for the Spring nineteen-fourteen are expressed in one word, "Clever." Clever fashions, clever fabrics and clever shades. Made to catch the eye and, once caught, to be satisfied. We are complimented daily on our superb showing, and we feel that we are deserving of the praise. Our ready-to-wear department is certainly a home of striking, beautiful, fashionable garments. There is not a new fabric that is not represented in the showing, nor is there a style but what shows all the evidences of Fashion's decree.

ated by President McKinley's cabinet. This assertion started the fireworks in Richmond, and the newspapers of the old Confederate capital are publishing long stories about it every day.

The controversy seems to have settled down to a decision on both sides to fight the battle out before the convention of the United Confederate Veterans' Association at Jacksonville in May. R. E. Lee Camp, No. 1, of Richmond, insists that the Confederate reunion in Jacksonville will have authority to determine the question of dedication ceremonies, while Chairman Ellyson declares flatly, and with some warmth, that the reunion can have nothing to do with it.

A parking shot fired at Chairman Ellyson by a member of the Richmond camp shows how hot the fight is there. "I cannot do anything here," said he, "but when I get to the Jacksonville reunion I intend to ask and find out why J. Taylor Ellyson does not want to have the Confederate Memorial Institute dedicated." Chairman Ellyson met this insinuation with the statement, "I will meet you at Jacksonville."

Photographs

I will be at my Studio, 128 Fourth street, the last week in each month, to make special sittings for those who desire Photographs of the Higher class. I will have renewed and improved ideas, from the center of the photographic world, New York City, in draping, posing and lighting, including all the new finishes which differentiate my work from the product of the cheaper studios. For appointments leave name at Studio, which is open every day with a competent person in charge.
